Invitation

The Czech Society of Experimental Plant Biology (CSEPB) cordially invites you to the 12th Conference of Students of Experimental Plant Biology which will take place in Olomouc, September 4-5, 2014.

CSEPB continues with its tradition to have the international meetings for students of doctoral programs in various places of the Czech and the Slovak Republics. This meeting will cover the major aspects of plant experimental biology, including molecular & cell biology, biochemistry & physiology, and systematics & evolution.

This year the student presentations in the field of innovative technologies & applications are also highly welcomed. Traditionally, the best student presentations as well as poster win special prizes.

We are looking forward to seeing you in Olomouc and hope that you will enjoy not only scientific, but also the social aspects of the meeting.

On behalf of organizers,
Lukáš Spíchal
